The Book of Klavek

The Third Book of the paq'batlh is the book of Klavek. It is broken into Tomes. Not much is know of this book as it was severely damaged in the last great wars. What has survived is the eleventh tome.

Eleventh Tome: Kahless Descent into Gre'thor

There will be a great warrior. He will travel beyond this world to rescue his brother from the Barge of the Dead and deliver him to Sto-vo-Kor. There he will meet and battle Kortar and the Fek'lh.

When he returns, he will bare the wounds from his battles in the afterlife, "a warning that what he experienced wasn't a dream".

Twentyth Tome: Prophecy of the Kuvah'magh

A Kuvah'magh will appear in the future time. You should search out this Kuvah'magh. This Kuvah'magh is a religious figure that will lead you to honor and salvation.

The kuvah'magh is younger than old age and stronger than sickness.

The Kuvah'magh has spoken to me.. the Kuvah'magh said,

"You would know me before I know the world."

"You will follow in my footsteps before I have made them."

The Kuvah'magh also showed me a place that is unknown by any Klingon. "This is a dangerous place.

Go there and you will find me." the Kuvah'magh said.

"You will find honor and glory in this place." The Kuvah'magh then said "I will bring hope to those who believe."

The Kuvah'magh then faded away like the ripples of a pond hide the bottom of a lake.
